CASABLANCA

- Casablanca – Literally means “white house” in Spanish, located on Morocco’s Atlantic coast, is the largest city and principal port of Morocco. Serving as Morocco’s chief port, it is one of the largest financial centers on the African continent.
- Hassan II Mosque – situated partly on reclaimed land along the coast. It is the largest mosque in Africa, and the 3rd largest in the world. Its minaret is the world’s second tallest minaret at 210 metres (689 ft). Completed in 1993, it was designed by Michel Pinseau and built by Bouygues. The minaret is 60 stories high topped by a laser, the light from which is directed towards Mecca.
- Old Medina of Casablanca – Between the port and Hassan II’s mosque there’s the Old Medina, the oldest part of Casablanca which has the last remnants of the city of the twentieth century. The neighborhood is full of labyrinthine small streets and shops with handcrafted products.

RABAT

- Rabat – is the capital city of Morocco. The medina and the modern city of Rabat listed as a shared World Heritage Site.
- Hassan Tower – is the minaret of an incomplete mosque. According to the Sudan’s construction of the largest mosque in the world, there was shortage of funds; the mosque sustained some damage in the Earthquake and the project was forced to be interrupted. Today, these remnants are considered to be an architectural art and It was granted World Heritage Status in 2012.

FES

- Fes – or Fez is a city in northern inland Morocco and the capital of the Fas-Meknas administrative region. It is the second largest city in Morocco after Casablanca. The city largely consists of two old medina quarters, Fes el Bali and Fes Jdid, and modern urban area of Ville Nouvelle constructed during the French colonial era. In 1981, the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) proclaimed Medina of Fez a World Cultural Heritage site. The city has been called the “Mecca of the West”.
- Fes el-Bali – is the site of the famous Qarawiyyin University which was founded in 859 and the oldest continuously functioning university in the world. It also has Chouara Tannery from the 11th century, one of the oldest tanneries in the world.

ERFOUD

- Sahara Desert - is the largest desert in the world. Filling nearly all of northern Africa. The actual area varies as the desert expands and contracts over time. The area is next expected to become green in about 15,000 years (17,000 AD).
